The session encouraged informed dialogue on strengthening legal mechanisms and societal accountability to combat gender-based violence.

The lecture addressed the complex phenomenon of acid violence, situating it within the broader framework of constitutional rights, criminal justice reforms, gender-based violence, and state responsibility. The discussion was particularly significant in light of the post-2013 criminal law reforms in India, which sought to address systemic gaps exposed after the Nirbhaya case. Prof. Deswal's lecture combined doctrinal analysis, empirical data, comparative perspectives, and victim-centric insights, making it a valuable academic contribution for faculty members, research scholars, and students.

EXPERT TALK ON WOMEN AND THE LAWS

Faculty of Law, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda organised expert lecture on "WOMEN AND THE LAWS" under the aegis of staff Academic Development Fund on 9th January 2026.

The speaker, Prof. (Dr.) Vagheshwari Deswal adopted a feminist socio-legal approach, highlighting how patriarchal mindsets have historically influenced judicial reasoning, especially in cases of sexual violence. Through detailed discussion of a multitude of cases and developments relating to gang rape and marital rape, the lecture traced the gradual shift from victim-blaming narratives to rights-based interpretations. The session also addressed the limitations of criminal law in tackling social evils such as dowry and domestic violence, emphasising the need for civil remedies and societal transformation alongside legal reform. The lecture provided students with a comprehensive understanding of the intersection between law, gender, and society. It underscored the importance of recognising consent as an affirmative concept, critiqued judicial reliance on stereotypes concerning women's character, and highlighted the evidentiary challenges in prosecuting sexual offences. The discussion on custodial rape and the presumption of absence of consent illustrated how feminist legal movements have directly influenced statutory reform. Further, the lecture examined the evolution of gang rape laws, including the expansion of liability through the concept of group action, and analysed the gradual dismantling of marital rape immunity through constitutional reasoning and child protection laws. The session also offered a critical appraisal of dowry-related laws and Section 498A IPC, acknowledging their necessity while recognising their unintended consequences. The introduction of the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act, 2006 was discussed as a shift towards preventive and protective civil remedies.

Overall, the lecture enhanced students' doctrinal knowledge, encouraged critical legal thinking, and reinforced the understanding that law is a dynamic instrument that must evolve alongside social change. The session contributed significantly to gender sensitisation, legal awareness, and the development of a rights-based perspective among future legal professionals.

Keynote speaker, Prof. Dr. Vageshwari Deswal of the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi, explained that the UCC is a constitutional aspiration enshrined in Article 44 of the Directive Principles of State Policy. Prof. Deswal discussed the historical background, noting that while the British codified criminal and commercial laws, they left personal laws largely untouched. She highlighted that Dr. B.R. Ambedkar strongly supported the UCC as a means to achieve equality and gender justice. At the same time, concerns were raised during the Constituent Assembly debates that a UCC might affect religious freedom and cultural practices. The session examined how post-independence governments have been cautious about implementing the UCC due to political and social sensitivities. The constitutional relationship between Article 44 and the Fundamental Right to freedom of religion under Articles 25-28 was discussed in detail. Important judicial decisions, including the Shah Bano Case and Sarla Mudgal v. Union of India, were highlighted for their contribution to the discourse on UCC and gender justice.

The lecture also identified key challenges to implementation, including religious diversity, political considerations, limited social acceptance, and practical drafting concerns. The session concluded that awareness, legal literacy, and gradual reforms are essential for achieving a Uniform Civil Code that promotes equality, gender justice, and national integration.

INTERPRETING STATUTES BY THEIR
SUBJECT MATTER AND PURPOSE AWAAY

- Courts look beyond the literal words
- To find the legislature's true intent, applying different rules.
- To achieve a just outcome.
- 1. In legal interpretation, a statute's subject matter defines its scope. (what it covers - extent)
- 2. while its purpose reflects the legislature's intent (why it was created)
- Courts increasingly use a modern approach that integrates both, ensuring words are understood in their wider context to fulfill the law's objectives.

VOX LEGIS 8.0 EDITION - IN HOUSE FACULTY STUDENT COLLABORATIVE MAGAZINE

Vox Legis is the annual faculty-student collaborative publication of the Faculty of Law, available in both print magazine and blog formats. The 8th edition was officially launched on 14 September 2026 during the Inaugural Ceremony of the Mega Legal Aid Camp at the Faculty of Law. The Magazine was released by Hon'ble Judges of the High Court of Gujarat—Hon'ble Mr. Justice A. Y. Kogje, Hon'ble Mr. Justice V. K. Vyas, and Hon'ble Ms. Justice S. V. Pinto, Prof. (Dr.) Archana Gadekar, and the Vox Legis 8.0 team. Dr. Bageshree Trivedi, Editor-in-Chief, introduced the theme "LIMINAL", that embodies the fragile beauty of thresholds, moments where the old does not fully remain, and the new has not yet completely arrived. This edition of Vox Legis reflects on questions larger than doctrine: What becomes of justice when truth is fluid, when technology reshapes identity, when nature itself demands recognition? In exploring these paradoxes, Liminal reminds us that law is not merely a set of rules, but a living bridge between eras, carrying us into what lies ahead.

Hon'ble Mr. Justice Alpesh Y. Kogje praised the publication's theme, high-quality content, innovative design, and the dedication of the student editorial team. He highlighted that initiatives like Vox Legis foster critical legal thinking, leadership, teamwork, creativity, and professional skills among law students.

DOCTORAL STUDIES

RESEARCH SCHOLAR : MS. SEJAL RUSHI

RESEARCH GUIDE : Prof. (Dr.) Archana Gadekar, Dean,
Faculty of Law, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda

STUDY ABOUT: Protection of Endangered Species : Issues and Challenges

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS:

- Despite the presence of key legal instruments like the Wildlife Protection Act, 1972 (WLPA) and the National Wildlife Action Plan (2017-2031), India's current conservation regime remains insufficient to ensure species-specific recovery and long-term ecological resilience. These frameworks are primarily designed to prevent exploitation, with a strong emphasis on anti-hunting and trade restrictions. Critically, they do not mandate binding recovery plans or follow a transparent, science-based process for listing and delisting species. This inadequacy stems largely from systemic challenges and enforcement gaps that have hindered effective implementation of existing laws.
- In response to these limitations, this study proposes a dedicated Endangered Species Act (ESA) as a new legislative framework to address these shortcomings. The Endangered Species Bill, 2025 Ensure Scientific Identification and Classification. Mandate Species Recovery Planning Protect Critical Habitats Beyond Protected Areas. Address Neglected and Lesser-Known Taxa. Institutionalize Regular Review and Monitoring. Enable Community engagement.

STUDY ABOUT: Effect of Artificial Intelligence With Special Reference to Big Data vis-à-vis Fundamental Rights.

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS:

- AI has significant implications on fundamental rights, including privacy, equality, and freedom of speech and expression. The use of AI may result in violations of individual rights and raises several legal and ethical concerns.
- These concerns require urgent and effective regulatory measures to protect fundamental rights. Globally, AI is regulated through three broad approaches: self-regulation, co-regulation, and binding regulation. While self-regulation and co-regulation offer certain advantages, their major limitation is the lack of accountability. Therefore, for India, the Researcher recommends a binding legislative framework to effectively govern and regulate AI.
- The proposed Artificial Intelligence (Regulation and Governance) Act, 2025 therefore advocates a binding legislative framework to ensure accountable and rights-based AI governance. Regulatory Oversight and Governance.

STUDY ABOUT: An Analytical Study on Matrimonial Desertion of Indian Citizen by Non Residential Indian with Special Reference to Gujarat

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS:

- Indian Citizens are needs to be aware of their rights in Non Residential Indian marriage before doing marriage with Non Residential Indian.
- Deserted Indian Citizen should approach the Indian High Commission in case of desertion by Non Residential Indian rather coming back to India.
- Indian Citizens should verify Visa Status, Marital Status and Job details along with Social Security Number of Non Residential Indian spouse before marriage.
- Conviction of The Contempt of Court Act, 1971 should be calculated along with conviction done by Honorable Trial Court to make matrimonial desertion offence to cover under definition of extraditable offences as per section-2 of International treaty of Extradition with foreign countries.

STUDY ABOUT: Critical Assessment of Refugee Status Determination in India: Issues and Challenges

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS:

- The proposed Refugees and Asylum Seekers Identification & Protection Act, 2025 seeks to establish a comprehensive legal framework for refugee identification, status determination, and protection in India.
- It creates a Refugee Status Determination Board and Regional Tribunals to ensure fair, structured, and time-bound decision-making. It incorporates safeguards against refoulement and provides access to healthcare, education, shelter, religion and association. The proposal also prescribes obligations for refugees, including compliance with Indian laws and periodic updating of personal information.
- A Central Database with biometric information is proposed for systematic registration and effective refugee management. Regional Tribunals would hear appeals against RSD decisions within prescribed timelines, ensuring procedural fairness. The framework balances humanitarian protection with national security and public-order concerns through defined exclusions and penalties. Overall, it seeks to establish a codified, consistent, and humane refugee protection regime suited to India's contemporary challenges.

શહેરની એમ.એસ.યુનિ.ની ફેકલ્ટી ઓફ લો દ્વારા જિલ્લા કાનૂની સેવા સત્તામંડળ (DLSA) સાથે મળીને નિઃશુલ્ક કાનૂની સહાય શિબિરનું આયોજન કરવામાં આવ્યું હતું. જેમાં ગુજરાત હાઈકોર્ટના ન્યાયમૂર્તિ અને ગુજરાત રાજ્ય કાનૂની સેવા સત્તામંડળના કાર્યકારી અધ્યક્ષ જસ્ટિસ અલ્પેશ કોગ્જેએ જણાવ્યું હતું કે, આ પ્રકારની શિબિર કાનૂન અને જનતા વચ્ચે અંતર ઘટાડે છે.

બે પૂર્વ વિદ્યાર્થીનીઓએ ૧૭મો અને ૨૮મો ક્રમ પ્રાપ્ત કર્યો, ૮૦૦૦ જેટલા ઉમેદવારોએ પરીક્ષા આપી હતી.

આ સ્ટુડન્ટસનું આજે વાર્ષિક ચાન્સેલર પ્રા. ભણગેના હસ્તે સન્માન પહેલા પ્રયાસમાં અઢી માર્કથી ચૂકી ગયો હતો.

આ મારો બીજો એટેમ્પ્ટ હતો. પહેલા એટેમ્પ્ટમાં હું અઢી માર્ક માટે ચૂકી ગયો હતો. આ વખતે પ્રથમ ક્રમ પ્રાપ્ત થયો છે. મેઈન પરીક્ષા માટે જવાબો લખવાની પ્રેક્ટિસ વધારે કરી હતી. હું એડવોકેટ તરીકે પણ પ્રેક્ટિસ કરું છું અને ઈન્ટરવ્યૂમાં સવાલોના જવાબ આપવામાં મને આ અનુભવ કામ લાગ્યો હતો.

પ્રિયંશ રાઠોડ, પ્રથમ ક્રમ

કરવામાં આવ્યું હતું. ઉલ્લેખનીય છે કે, આ પરીક્ષા પ્રીલિમ, મેઈન અને ઈન્ટરવ્યૂ એમ ત્રણ તબક્કામાં લેવામાં આવે છે. લગભગ ૮૦૦૦ ઉમેદવારોએ પ્રીલિમ પરીક્ષા આપી હતી અને તેમાંથી મેઈન પરીક્ષા અને બાદમાં ઈન્ટરવ્યૂ માટે ઉમેદવારોને શોર્ટ લિસ્ટ કરાયા હતા.

નોટસ બનાવીને પરીક્ષાની તૈયારી કરી હતી.

૨૦૨૩માં લો ફેકલ્ટીમાંથી બેચલર અને ૨૦૨૪માં માસ્ટરની ડિગ્રી મેળવી હતી. પહેલેથી જ જજ બનવાનું લક્ષ્ય હોવાથી પહેલા વર્ષથી એ જ દિશામાં તૈયારી કરી હતી. નોટસ બનાવીને સ્ટડી કરતી રહેતી હતી. પહેલા જ પ્રયત્નમાં પરીક્ષા પાસ કરી છે તેની વિશેષ ખુશી છે.

તે ઉપરાંત તેમણે નિષ્ણાત વર્તન પ્રતિષ્ઠા, અવરનસ પ્રોગ્રામ, જેન્ડર સેન્સિટાઈઝેશન અને સામૂહિક જવાબદારીની જરૂરિયાત પર પણ વિશેષ ભાર મૂક્યો હતો. તેમણે વિદ્યાર્થીઓને નિર્ભયતાથી આગળ આવી ફરિયાદ કરવાની સિમ્ત ફેળવવા અને સંસ્થાઓને દંડ પગલા લેવા વિનંતી કરી હતી. કારણ કે સુરક્ષિત કેમ્પસ માત્ર નીતિઓથી નથી - પરંતુ ચેતના, જવાબદારી અને સંયુક્ત પ્રયત્નોથી બને છે.
